ABOUT THE PRESENTER:

Mark A. Lies, II is a Labor and Employment Attorney and Partner with Seyfarth Shaw. He specializes in Occupational Safety and Health Law and related employment law and personal injury litigation. He advises and represents companies in OSHA settlement meetings. He is a keynote speaker at national safety conferences, trade association and company sponsored events as well as a speaker at Arthur J. Gallagher & Co. webcast events. Mark is a contributing author of many Risk Management – Safety Insight newsletters for Gallagher.

Chemical manufacturers and importers are required to prepare Safety Data Sheets (SDS) and Globally Harmonized System (GHS) labels for the chemicals and hazardous materials they ship. As an employer you are responsible for training your employees so they understand GHS labels and know how to find and read the SDS. OSHA has mandated a GHS and SDS training deadline of December 1, 2013. However, the new GHS labels and SDSs will start arriving in your workplace much sooner than that. So GHS training should be completed as soon as possible.
